Abstract. Silvanoprus cephalotes (Reitter, 1876) is reported for the first time from Slovakia and Central Europe.

Taxonomic characters for identification of Silvanoprus cephalotes (Reitter, 1876) are provided by Halstead (1993), Sengupta & Pal (1996) and Hirano (2010). This species is widely distributed in the Oriental and Australian regions, in the Far East of the Palaearctic region, and has been introduced into Africa (Halstead 1993, Sengupta & Pal 1996, Halstead et al. 2007). There are recent records from 2010 in northwestern Ukraine (Drogvalenko & Konovalov 2016) and in 2014 from the Western Caucasus (Kovalev 2016). First records from Slovakia and Central Europe.

Records of Silvanoprus cephalotes from Slovakia: Košice, Furča (7293), 2.vii.2012, 1 spec., I. Smatana (Košice, Slovakia) leg. et coll.; Muráňská planina National Park, Hroněc valley (7183), 10.viii.2019, 2 spec., F. Pavel (Vysoká nad Labem, Czech Republic) leg. et coll.; all det. P. Průdek.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS. I am obliged to Filip Pavel (Vysoká nad Labem, Czech Republic) and Ivan Smatana (Košice, Slovakia) for the loan of Silvanidae from their collections. I thank also Jiří Ch. Vávra (Ostrava, Czech Republic) for additional information on records from Ukraine.
